TTHM Simulcast Setup 2024

Language Simulcast Setup Checklist & Notes

Telephone Town Hall Meeting Simulcasts include two Interpreters as well as bilingual Operators that translate participant questions into English. Help our team provide the best possible live translation for your Language Simulcast by providing your TTHM Moderator with the following information at least 24 hours prior to broadcast.

- Names and Titles of all Featured Speakers.
- Any scripted comments that will be delivered by Featured Speakers.
- Key phone numbers, websites, emails, action items, social handles, etc.
- Polling questions with up to five possible answers per poll.
- Canned Questions to facilitate Q&A. Web Registration Pages can include a "Submit a Question" field to generate advance questions from registrants.
- An Agenda/Timeline document outlining your event and additional scripting.
- Details on upcoming events, transfer options, assistance protocols, and anything else that might help our Interpreters and Operators support the live forum.

Language Simulcast Production Notes

Questions taken from Simulcasts are read in English on the main broadcast, answered in English by your featured speakers, and that dialogue is translated by our interpreters for the simulcast audience.

TTHM will record alternate-language components of your Live Answer and Voicemail prompts to facilitate transfer to a Language Simulcast.

When adding more than one Simulcast, we recommend identifying a Primary Simulcast (typically Spanish) that transfers from the main English dialout. Other languages should be dialed directly using prompts exclusively in those languages.

TTHM can facilitate direct dialouts by adding a Language Preference field to your Web Registration Page then splitting opt-in data for dialout. If you have reliable Language Preference in your contact database (not based on surname), provide that detail to TTHM to facilitate Simulcast dialouts.
